At a meeting of the executive committee of the American Union party, which decided to call a nominating convention on October 4, a strong resolution against the pending election law was adopted. As the object of the law is to secure purity of elections, and its provisions are borrowed from the laws that have wonderfully attained that object in Great Britain, the United States and the British Colonies, the advertisement of the American Union party's committee is astounding. Do they not want to have a square deal in the election?

JOLLY SUNDAY WEDDING.

Mr. Nye of the Wilder Fleet Takes to Himself a Wife

Last evening, Sunday, Sept. 23, at the residence of the clergy adjoining the Roman Catholic Cathedral, Mr. J. Henry Nye, chief officer of the steamer Clavette, was united in marriage to Miss Susan Kaniakalani Pua, father Leonor officiating at the ceremony.

For several days previously preparations were made at the home of the bride's parents, Palama, for the coming joyous festivities. A large laui was erected in front of the house, flowers and greenery were procured for decorating purposes, and at 7 o'clock last evening, when all was ready, the contracting parties, accompanied by members of the bride's family and attendants, left the house in a wagonette and carriages for the church, where the ceremony was performed. In the meanwhile guests arrived at the residence, where they were received and entertained before the return of the nuptial party. The family home on this occasion presented a very pretty aspect, with ferns and flowers twined around posts and hanging from the ceiling, while Chinese lanterns shedding rays of variegated colors on objects around, enhanced the beauty of the scene.

The wedding party shortly returned. A short reception followed, after which adjournment was had to the laui, where a beautiful supper was served. For fully half an hour hardly a word of a social nature was heard, so intent were the guests upon making havoc on roast turkeys, chickens, sandwiches, etc. At last and unexpectedly Mr. Harry Webb—genial Harry—broke the silence with his musical voice by proposing the health of the bride and bridegroom. With a will and hearty feeling the company rose to respond, another supplementing the original motion with a wish that a dozen olive branches should bless the union. Thus proposition so paralyzed the company that quite a while passed ere the contents of the glasses could be drained. After this followed general speech-making, Captain McGregor of the Mokohi acting as master of ceremonies. Genial Harry—the Hawaiian orator of the evening—Messrs. McGregor, A. and N. Fernandez, Desha, Dwight, Cathcart, Hinton, Houghaling and others took part, the speeches made showing each and all of them to be eloquent speakers and careful readers, and capable, in case of necessity, of filling legislative positions in any parliament. A toast to the health of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pua and family, followed by one for the ladies, terminated the proceedings of the dinner table, after which music and jollifications were indulged in to a late hour, when the guests began to disperse, wishing the happy couple long life and prosperity.

At the wedding the bridegroom was attended by Mr. Wm. Hinton, best man; Miss Hattie K. Pua acting as bridesmaid. The bride was dressed in figured white China silk trimmed with lace, the usual orange blossom and veil accompanying. The bridesmaid's dress was made of cream crepe trimmed with pink aurah and lace. Both dresses looked very becoming on the wearers. The presents were numerous and costly. At noon to-day another laui was given by Mr. Pua in honor of the event, which passed away pleasantly and was largely attended.

Band Concert.

The public band, under the leadership of Prof. Berger, will give a concert this evening at 7.30 o'clock, at Emma Square. Following is the program:

G. A. R. CAMPFIRE.

Annual Reunion of Veterans of the Union Army and Friends.

George W. DeLong Post, G. A. R., held its annual campfire at the residence of Comrade J. N. Wright, Independence Park, on Saturday evening. There was a goodly attendance of resident and visiting comrades, including Dr. N. B. Emerson, acting Post Commander; R. J. Greene, Quartermaster; W. F. Williams, Honolulu; Henry Williams, San Francisco; Mr. Rhoads, L. Adler and other wearers of the bronze button. Among the guests were President and Mrs. S. B. Dole, W. O. Smith, Attorney-General, Mrs. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mrs. Reimann, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowell, Mrs. L. E. Atwater, Mr. King, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, Miss Rhoads, Miss Adler, press representatives and others.

The house was nicely decorated with flags, and Mr. and Mrs. Wright, with assisting friends, gave a cordial reception to all as they arrived. In the park opposite the house a huge bonfire was lighted at the opening of the festival. It was to remind the vets. of the campfires of necessity in the days of trouble. There was still a large heap of glowing coals when the exercises closed at 10.30. At 8 o'clock the party were summoned to partake of army grub, but it is safe to say the veterans never broncked over such luxurious fare. Besides beans cooked in the most savory fashion and hard tack that needed no hatchet to break it up, there were delicious dainties of the kind you expect at weddings. The feast was spread in the dining room, where all were invited, but the ladies were served in the parlor.

After the repast the literary exercises were begun. Dr. Emerson presided and, after opening music on the piano by Miss Rhoads, delivered an introductory address. He said this was a fit occasion for comrades to relate personal experiences of the war. In expressing the sympathy of members of that Post for the new republic, he called on the President and the Attorney-General to address the gathering.

President Dole and Minister Smith responded, cordially reciprocating the good feeling of the commander and veterans. Both were heartily applauded.

Dr. Emerson later, in intervals of the program, related incidents of the war. Mr. Greene told some good stories of camp and siege. He was subjected to a laughable running fire from Comrade W. F. Williams, who held an outpost on the veranda.

Mr. Wright also gave interesting reminiscences of his part in putting down the rebellion. Mrs. Hall related some facts from the war record of her father, a Union general, whom she had accompanied on an expedition. Her remarks were warmly applauded, as she closed with an apostrophe to the old flag.

Miss Rhoads sang "Tenting To-night," at the piano, the company joining in the chorus. "America" was sung in chorus at the close of the exercises.

This year's campfire will be remembered with pleasure by all who were present.

The object of the Salvation Army throughout the world is to "reach the unreached" and they've succeeded in thousands of instances. We do not believe the reformatoms have always been permanent any more than the efforts of Francis Murphy or the ministrations of Dr. Keeley have proved entirely satisfactory in the matter of intemperance. They, like Mr. Moody, work upon the sympathies of the people, they get them first interested and then enthusiastic, when slap, bang, comes a desire to do better. But because there have been backsliders among the Salvationists or among the people who have once yielded to the persuasive eloquence of the late John B. Gough or a Murphy there is no reason why these reformers should not be encouraged. If a man or woman has gone to the dogs and a curbstone preacher is successful in lifting them up, even temporarily, it is infinitely better than if they had continued on a downward course. Temperance lecturers and Dr. Keeley have been scoffed at because their cures have not been permanent. Suppose they have not! Take, for instance, a man who draws his wages Saturday night and spends it in rum before Monday morning, leaving his wife and children without the necessities of life; "a bad state of affairs you will say." Well, suppose by some means or other he has a year of sobriety, is it not a blessing for his family to have just that one year? Intemperance and crime are close friends and scientific men consider them as diseases, oftentimes hereditary, which like consumption may be cured or relieved according to circumstances.

The Salvationists reach both by getting a hold on one, for it seldom happens that a man who thinks he is religious is a drunkard. We are not giving a lecture on religion nor are we exhorting people to give up their "stout and bitter," nor do we propose to don a red coat and shout hallelujah from one end of town to the other, we merely wish to call your attention to the fact that up to the hour of going to press there has never been a windmill introduced that would compare in any respect with a galvanized steel Aermotor. There are instances right here in Honolulu where wooden mills have been taken down and a steel Aermotor substituted. This has not been done except through a preference for good things, and because people wanted more water than any wooden mill would pump. A little 12-foot wheel out at the Ostrich Farm forces water 65 feet high through six hundred feet of pipe. It will do more than that but it happens that nothing more is required. A gentleman called on us the other day and wanted a mill and pump that would raise the water fifty feet and force it through thirty-two hundred feet of pipe. We guarantee to do it and never turn a hair. We have never heard of a wooden mill of the same size that would do it, some day there may be one made but we doubt it because the tastes of the people run toward lighter material. The Aermotor has been tried here and is no longer an experiment. When a customer calls upon us to purchase one we first ascertain the work to be done; if it is within the power of a windmill to do it we say so and then guarantee it; we have never had to take a mill back.
